PROPOSE NEW MEMBER FOR THE CABINET

Department Munitions May Be Established As Result of Inquiry

WOULD CONTROL ALL THE ARMY AND NAVY SUPPLIES

Bill Has Backing of Senate Committee and Will Be Strongly Pressed

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Jan. 4.—A department of munitions under a new cabinet head known as the secretary of munitions is proposed in a bill introduced today by Chairman Chamberlain of the senate military committee as a result of its investigation of war operations.

The new department would operate during the war and one year thereafter. The bill has the backing of the senate committee and will be strongly pressed. The new secretary of munitions would have power under the President's direction to control arms, ammunition, food, clothing, equipment, tentage, transportation and any other materials the President shall designate as munitions of war.

Government bureaus, agencies and funds necessary to munitions will be transferred to the new department which contemplates control of naval as well as army supplies.

"The bill is intended to increase and expedite the supply of munitions of war," said Senator Chamberlain. One great trouble with the war establishment as disclosed by the investigation has been a lack of coordination and the seeming impossibility of getting rid of circuitous methods of doing business. Until there can be coordination and methods more direct the United States will be groping in the dark for many months before we can place ourselves in proper fighting trim.

The senate war inquiry was resumed under a "speeding up" program adopted yesterday in executive session. Under the new arrangements, detailed examination of witnesses will be curtailed to a marked extent and the general work of the investigation will be expedited.

The inquiry again today was given over to testimony regarding clothing contracts let by the supplies committee of the council of national defense. Witnesses were called to supplement testimony already given by Charles Eisenman, vice chairman of the supplies committee, regarding the award of contracts to firms which were interested financially.

As a result of the investigation, Senator McKellar was ready today to propose a bill amending the act creating the council of national defense so as to abolish civilian advisory committees and prohibit council members from being interested financially in supply contracts.

Chairman Chamberlain of the investigating committee planned to introduce today a bill creating a new seat in the cabinet to be occupied by a secretary of munitions, whose duty would be to assume complete charge of war material purchasing.

GEN. PERSHING SENDS RETURN GREETINGS TO UNITED STATES

With the American Army in France, Thursday, Jan. 3.—(By the Associated Press).—On behalf of the American expeditionary force General Pershing has answered New Year's messages from the United States. A message to the army from the Children's American Loyalty League, reads:

"Dear American Soldiers—We know the sacrifice you have made for us and will make that we may be safe and happy. We thank you and wish you all a happy New Year."

General Pershing responded as follows: "The American soldiers in France are very glad to have your message. No sacrifice we can make will be too great if we can insure the safety and happiness of the children of America."

From Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, suffrage leader and member of the woman's council of national defense, came this greeting: "The women of the United States are with you in the spirit of service. You are our standard-bearer; our hope. We love you; believe in you; pray for you."

General Pershing replied: "All ranks of the American expeditionary force unite in heartfelt thanks to the women of America for their love and prayers. The patriotism of our incomparable women, than whom there are none others more noble, shall be our constant inspiration until the great task which is entrusted to us shall be accomplished. Accept our best wishes for the coming year and our firm confidence in final success."

To the women of the American Red Cross the American commander sent the thanks of all ranks, adding: "The love and confidence of our women will make us all better men and better soldiers and hold us firm in the courage and determination to win."

The position of M. Maklakoff, Russian ambassador to France who represented Russia in the interallied conference, is a peculiar one and a difficult one. He is Russia's minister to Paris and yet he is not recognized by the Bolsheviks.

THIRD OFFICERS TRAINING CAMPS OPEN SATURDAY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Washington, Jan. 4.—Preparations are complete for the opening Saturday of the third series of officers' training camps. From the non-commissioned and enlisted personnel of the regular army, the national guard and the national guard there have been drawn thousands of men whose qualifications it is thought entitle them to advancement into the commissioned grades. In addition 2,500 candidates have been selected from specified schools and colleges including military training in the curriculum.

For several months regimental and company commanders have been selecting from the ranks those men thought worthy of advancement. The names were reviewed by special board which selected a number equivalent to 17 per cent. of the enlisted strength of the unit. Determining factors in designating the candidates were conduct, leadership, ability to learn quickly and ability to instruct others. Every enlisted man in army service was afforded the opportunity to present his name as a candidate.

A school, comprising normally about 440 students organized into one infantry company and one light artillery battery, has been located at the headquarters of every army division. Additional schools have been allotted to the Philippines, Panama and Hawaii.

Enlisted men assigned to the schools will be considered as on detachment service during the training course and will receive the pay and allowances of their grade. College graduates assigned to the camps will be graded and paid as first class privates, will be required to enlist for duration of the war, and in event they fail to win commissions will have to stay in service and finish their enlistments.

The graduates of the schools will be carried on a list as eligible for the appointment as second lieutenant, and will be commissioned in the line as rapidly as vacancies occur.

SHOULD TAKE CARE IN SELECTING THE SPRING SEED CORN

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Columbus, Jan. 4.—The condition of wheat in Ohio showed a decline of two points in the last month and is $2 per cent. compared with the average condition at this time of year, according to the state department of agriculture's official statement issued today. Late seedling caused failure of a vigorous start, owing to lack of sufficient moisture. There is an optimistic view for the future, based on absence of alternate freezing and thawing and the good covering of snow that preceded zero weather in December.

With the statement that corn was damaged by frost and wet weather and that condition in crib now is 67 per cent. compared with 82 per cent. a year ago, warning is given that greatest care should be taken in selection of seed corn this spring. Seed corn is going to be very scarce and high in price, the statement says.

Condition of livestock is generally good. Every county in the state complains of a shortage of farm help. "If the average crop production for 1918 is to be maintained the farm labor problem will have to be taken care of, otherwise reduction in all crops will follow," concludes the statement.

OBJECTS TO TRANSFER OF NEGOTIATIONS

Russia's Attitude Leads the German Government to Act in Reichstag

VON HERTLING APPEARS BEFORE MAIN COMMITTEE

Dispatch From London Says Russians Have Made Counter Proposals

(Compiled from A. P. Dispatches)
Forecasts that Russia's refractory attitude regarding the German peace terms, coupled with home objections to them, would lead the German government to put the situation before the reichstag in some form were made good by today's news of the appearance of Chancellor von Hertling before the reichstag main committee.

The chancellor's statement concerning the clauses in the German terms which the Russians have rejected was of an indefinite nature, merely declaring that the outcome of the incident might be awaited cheerfully in reliance upon Germany's strong and consequent position and her "loyal intentions."

He announced that the Russian proposal for the transference of the negotiations to Stockholm had been rejected.

Unless there is a change in original plans, the emissaries of Russia and the central powers will meet today to continue their discussion of peace terms which the Bolsheviks have declared are unacceptable. Russia's delegates have proposed that the conference meet in Stockholm, which, if agreed to by the Germans, will make for delay.

A news dispatch received in London says the Russians have made counter-proposals to the Germans. It is added that they will be discussed at the next meeting at Brest-Litovsk on Saturday, which would indicate the Russians have not persisted in their demand that future meetings be held on neutral soil. The new Russian proposals call for complete evacuation of occupied territory pending a referendum on self-determination.

Reports that the German and Austrian emperors and their military and political advisers are much perturbed over the Russian attitude, are followed by one that Count von Hertling, the German imperial chancellor, is ill. Berlin political circles have a rumor that von Hertling, who is 74 years old, is to be ousted in favor of Prince von Buelow, the former chancellor, who is very close to the German crown prince.

Recognition of the Lenin-Trotsky regime in Russia as a de facto government by the entente allies is probable, according to the London Daily Chronicle. Such change of sentiment, it is said, would be due to the threatened break in peace negotiations and might bring from the allies a statement of democratic policy toward Russia.

Meanwhile the question of the constituent assembly still bothers the Bolsheviks and demands are made that it be called at once. The government of the Ukraine has sent to the Bolsheviks a demand that it withdraw its troops from the Ukraine and decide whether or not it is at war with that government. It is at war with that government.

Nothing has occurred to break the inactivity of the infantry on the western and Italian fronts. Small raids have taken place here and there and the German artillery fire continues strong at vital points on the western front.

England will soon be under compulsory rationing. In making this announcement, Lord Rhonda, the food controller, said the situation was not alarming and would improve, although shortage in certain foodstuffs would continue.

PROMISES RELIEF

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

New York, Jan. 4.—The arrival today of 60,000 tons of coal, announced by A. H. Smith, deputy director general of railroads, promised relief from the coal shortage, and consequent suffering. Some of the coal is being sent to upstate points. At New Jersey terminals there are 225,000 additional tons which will be brought to the city in barges as soon as powerful tugs have broken the ice in harbor estuaries.

COAL SITUATION SERIOUS.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Boston, Jan. 4.—The coal situation in New England was more serious today than at any previous time this winter. Promised relief through the arrival of steamers and barges and a shipment by rail, was not forthcoming and it was frankly admitted at the office of the New England fuel administrator that many industrial plants probably would be forced to close.

ENTENTE ALLIES MAY RECOGNIZE LENINE REGIME

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

London, Jan. 5.—Recognition of the Lenin government in Russia by the entente allies is probable owing to the developments in the Russo-German negotiations, according to the Daily Chronicle, which prints the statement in heavy type. The statement apparently is based on a contribution "by a diplomatic correspondent" which is printed beneath it. The writer says that owing to the Bolshevik discovery of German duplicity, anything may happen.

"There are," he says, "three alternatives: The Bolsheviks may give way; the Germans may give way; or there will be a rupture of relations. The first is hardly likely in view of Foreign Minister Trotsky's declaration. The second is possible, for the Germans are pastmasters in the art of spurious compromise. But the third is most probable since the Bolsheviks have exhibited a perspicacity which was hardly expected in this country."

"Russia, the land of boundless surprises, may quite possibly witness a revival of war, if not in the most active form it might at least be a suddenly defensive war necessitating the keeping on the frontier of a considerable German force. It would at least prevent those pleasant and profitable commercial exchanges which Germany hopes for."

"Assuming such a position and the consolidation of Bolshevik power, provided failure to extract a peace does not wreck the Lenin regime, then recognition of that power as the de facto government follows. Since that is so a Socialist would be the logical representative of that government and Maxim Litvinoff, who has been appointed, is likely enough occupant of the embassy."

Referring to the retirement of Sir George W. Buchanan, the British ambassador to Russia, whose services are praised highly, the writer says:

"In his place probably would be sent a diplomat in marked sympathy with the ideas of revolutionary Russia."

"Be that as it may, we may expect shortly some new statement of policy with regard to Russia, which should lean toward the latest developments and democracy, would undoubtedly strengthen the allied cause in Russia."

LEHMAN FOUND GUILTY OF HIS WIFE'S MURDER

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Wausau, O., Jan. 4.—Guilty of murder in the first degree was the verdict returned this morning by the jury in the Frederick Lehman murder case.

The jury, which has been out 40 hours, recommended clemency. This will save Lehman from the electric chair and the penalty will be life imprisonment. Lehman's attorneys say they will file a motion for a new trial.

Lehman, the jury found, murdered his young wife, Grace, on the night of September 16, for the love of the "other woman" in the case, Alcy Fenton, the wife of a neighbor. Lehman's defense was that robbers first shot and wounded him.

PRES. WILSON ADDRESSES CONGRESS ON GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP OF RAILROADS

EXPLAINS CONTROL OF RAILROADS BY THE GOVERNMENT

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Washington, Jan. 4.—The English method of meeting the transportation crisis by taking over control of the railroads immediately after that country entered the war in 1914 was explained in a speech made in the senate today by Senator Hollis of New Hampshire. This was the first speech to be delivered in the senate on the railroad situation and in view of President Wilson's address to congress during enactment of railroad legislation which will effect complete government control members followed Senator Hollis with interest.

Under the English method, Senator Hollis said, the government guaranteed stockholders the same earnings as paid during the year preceding the war, while under a plan of conciliation and arbitration, wages were increased through war bonuses with due regard to the increased cost of living. Strikes, he said, proved unnecessary and as a result, the employees have maintained the good will of both the public and the government.

"The unions of railroad men, through their executive committees," declared Senator Hollis, "have acted throughout the war in a patriotic and reasonable manner, basing their claims to advances in wages or bonuses on the increased cost of living and not on their power to prevent the operation of railroads. They have realized that a strike would be a strike against the nation, not against the companies. They have in this way obtained a very substantial advance in wages, at the same time retaining the good will of the public generally. There have been no railway strikes in England since the war began. The conduct of the railroads and the conduct of the men have been in the public interest, with every indication of conciliation and good feeling on both sides. This desirable condition can be attributed to but one cause—that is, the feeling of the men that their sacrifices are made for the public welfare and not to swell the profits of their employers. That this is a sound deduction is plain when we consider the hundreds of strikes in private plants where profits are not controlled."

The New Hampshire senator said that under the English plan, freight cars were loaded and delay in loading and unloading of cars heavily penalized. Passenger trains also were cancelled, reservation of seats abolished, excursion tickets discarded, traffic diverted, and passenger rates increased fifty per cent. not for the purpose of increasing revenues, but to discourage travel.

MORE THAN MILLION IN PROFITS MADE BY NAVIGATION COMPANY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Washington, Jan. 4.—Profits amounting to more than a million dollars were made by the Clinchfield Navigation company in a deal involving government shipbuilding contracts, according to testimony today before the senate commerce committee investigating the shipbuilding program.

This information was disclosed by Theodore E. Ferris, chief constructor for the emergency fleet corporation, and by a report by a district officer of the shipping board, at today's hearing.

The Clinchfield company, it was declared, sold to the government four ships under construction for the company in the yards of the Sloane Shipyard corporation of Seattle, making a profit of $420,000, and later obtained for the Sloane corporation contracts for 12 more ships on which it made a 5 per cent. profit.

Sensors questioned Mr. Ferris closely as to the reason for letting contracts for the 12 ships to the Clinchfield corporation, an owner, but not a builder, of ships, and expressed dissatisfaction over a deal by which the corporation sold to the government the four ships at a price so much higher than it was paying for their construction.

Mr. Ferris declared he knew nothing of the financial arrangements, but admitted recommending the Clinchfield corporation to General Gough in a letter. The committee asked that the letter be produced tomorrow.

Recommends That Congress Provide Compensation at the Rate of Same Net Operating Income as Roads Received for Three Preceding Fiscal Years

$500,000,000 TO BE APPROPRIATED FOR MAINTENANCE AND BETTERMENT

Taking Over of Roads Necessary to Obtain United But Existing Organizations Will Be Disturbed As Little As Possible and Railway Securities Will Be Justly and Fairly Protected—Private Interests Which Are Disturbed Should Be Kept Safe From Unjust Injury

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Washington, Jan. 4.—President Wilson today laid before congress, assembled in joint session, his recommendations for carrying out government operation of railroads. Bills to carry out the president's ideas already had been prepared under the supervision of the department of justice and were immediately introduced with plans for prompt consideration in both house and senate.

To guarantee proper return to the roads during the period of the government operation the president recommended that congress provide compensation at the rate of the same net operating income as the roads have received for the three preceding fiscal years.

To provide for proper maintenance of the roads and their return to owners in the same order as the government takes them over, the president recommended legislation to authorize their upkeep and betterment during the period of federal operation. Legislation to this effect is all contained in the administration bills which will appropriate a $500,000,000 fund for government operation.

Only by government operation, the president told congress, could the unity necessary to the country be obtained and he added that existing organizations of the railroads should be disturbed as little as possible.

The president laid special stress on the guarantees to the roads and their stockholders, saying on that point:

"I need not point out the essential justice of such guarantees and their great influence and significance as elements in the present financial and industrial situation of the country. Indeed, of the strong arguments for assuming control of the railroads at this time is the financial argument. It is necessary that the values of railway securities should be justly and fairly protected and that the large financial operations every year necessary in connection with the maintenance, operation and development of the roads should, during the period of the war, be wisely related to the financial operations of the government."

"Our first duty is, of course, to conserve the common interest and the common safety and to make certain that nothing stands in the way of the successful prosecution of the great war for liberty and justice, but it is also an obligation of public conscience and of public honor that the private interests we disturb should be kept safe from unjust injury, and it is of the utmost consequence to the government itself that all great financial operations should be stabilized and co-ordinated with the financial operations of the government."

"No borrowing should run athwart the borrowings of the federal treasury and no fundamental industrial values should anywhere be unnecessarily impaired in the hands of many thousands of small investors in the country, as well as in national banks, in insurance companies, in savings banks, in trust companies, in financial agencies of every kind, railway securities, the sum total of which runs up to some ten or eleven thousand millions, constitute a vital part of the structure of credit, and the unquestioned solidity of that structure must be maintained."

The president spoke in full as follows: Gentlemen of the Congress: I have asked the privilege of addressing you in order to report that on the 28th of December last, during the recess of congress, acting through the secretary of war and under the authority conferred upon me by the act of congress approved August 29, 1916, I took possession and assumed control of the railway lines of the country and the systems of water transportation under their control. This step seemed to be imperatively necessary in the interest of the public welfare, in the presence of the great tasks of war with which we are now dealing. As our experience develops difficulties and makes it clear that they are, I have deemed it my duty to remove those difficulties wherever I have the legal power to do so. To assume control of the vast railway systems of the country, is, I realize a very great responsibility but to fail to do so in the existing circumstances would have been much greater. I assumed the responsibility rather than the weightier.

I am sure that I am speaking the mind of all thoughtful Americans when I say it is our duty as the representatives of the nation to do everything that it is necessary to do to secure the complete mobilization of the whole resources of America by as rapid and effective a means as can be found. Transportation supplies all the arteries of mobilization. Unless it be under a single and unified direction, the whole process of the nation's action is embarrassed.

It was in the true spirit of America, and it was right, that we should first try to effect the necessary unification under the voluntary action of those who were in charge of the great railway properties, and we did try it. The directors of the railways responded to the need promptly and generously. The group of railway executives who were charged with the task of actual co-ordination and general direction performed their difficult duties with patriotic zeal and marked ability, as was to have been expected, and did, I believe, everything that it was possible for them to do in the circumstances. If I have taken the task out of their hands, it has not been because of any dereliction or failure on their part but only because there were some things which the government can do and private management cannot.

We shall continue to value most highly the advice and assistance of these gentlemen and I am sure we shall not find them withholding it. It had become unmistakably plain that only under government administration can the entire equipment of the several systems of transportation

GOVERNOR JAS. COX DENOUNCES GARFIELD IN SCATHING TERMS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

South Charleston, O., Jan. 4.—Governor James M. Cox delivered a scathing denunciation of Fuel Administrator Garfield's methods at a Red Cross farmers' meeting here today, charging that the "million ton excess in the northwest" was caused by the blunder of Professor Garfield. "I am responsible in a large measure for the tie up of transports loaded with supplies for American soldiers in France because of lack of fuel."

Declaring that the new work of Railroad Director General McAdoo will keep Dr. Garfield out of the coal business, the governor remarked "for which God be praised."

"Press reports dealing with the war," said the governor, "say that transports loaded with supplies for the soldiers in France are lying in eastern harbors because of an insufficient supply of coal. The million ton excess in the northwest occasioned by the blunder of Professor Garfield might be of great service now for both ocean and land activities."

"I see that the professor says in his testimony before a senate committee that the condition in Ohio was psychological. Reduced to simple terms, the meaning of his observation is that the people only thought they were cold. Eight hundred miles away, he knew they were not. It probably will be a revelation to scientists that the elements of heat and cold bear any relation to the professor's speciality. The task before us now is one of keeping the mines going, clearing up congestion and making a sensible distribution."

"Mr. McAdoo, as a practical man, will attend to this. Meanwhile I feel quite sure that the country will have no objection to Professor Garfield's continuing his study of phycology. That will keep him out of the coal business and keep McAdoo in it, for which God be praised."

be fully and unreservedly thrown into a common service without injurious discrimination against particular properties. Only under government administration can an absolutely unrestricted and unembarrassed common use be made of all tracks, terminals, terminal facilities and equipment of every kind. Only under that authority can new terminal be concentrated and developed without regard to the requirements or limitations of particular roads. But under government administration all these things will be possible—not instantly, but as fast as practical difficulties, which cannot be merely conjured away, give way before the new management.

The common administration will be carried out with as little disturbance of the present operating organizations and personnel of the railways as possible. Nothing will be altered or disturbed which it is not necessary to disturb. We are safeguarding the public safety but we are also safeguarding the interest of those by whom these great properties are owned and glad to avail ourselves of the experience and trained ability of those who have been managing them. It is necessary that the transportation of troops and of war materials, of food and of fuel, and of everything that is necessary for the full mobilization of the energies and resources of the country, should be first considered, but it is clearly in the public interest also that the ordinary activities and the normal industrial and commercial life of the country should be interfered with and dislocated as little as possible and the public may rest assured that the interest and convenience of the private shipper will be as carefully served and safeguarded as it is possible to serve and safeguard it in the present extraordinary circumstances.

While the present authority of the executive suffices for all purposes of administration and while, of course, all private interests must for the present give way to the public necessity, it is, I am glad to agree with me, right and necessary that the owners and creditors of the railways, the holders of their stocks and bonds, should receive from the government an unqualified guarantee that their properties will be maintained throughout the period of federal control in as good repair and as complete equipment as at present, and that the federal control will receive under federal management such compensation as is equitable and just alike to their owners and to the general public. I would suggest the average net railway operating income of the three years ending June 30, 1917. I earnestly recommend that these guarantees be given by appropriate legislation, and given as promptly as circumstances permit.

I need not point out the essential justice of such guarantees and their great influence and significance as elements in the present financial and industrial situation of the country. Indeed, one of the strong arguments for assuming control of the railways at this time is the financial argument. It is necessary that the values of the several securities should be justly and fairly protected and that the large financial operations every year necessary in connection with the maintenance, operation and development of the roads should, during the period of the war, be wisely related to the financial operation of the government. Our first duty is, of course, to conserve the common interest and the common safety and to make certain that nothing stands in the way of the successful prosecution of the great war for liberty and justice, but it is an obligation of public honor and that the private interests we disturb should be kept safe from unjust injury, and it is of the utmost consequence to the government itself that all great financial operations should be stabilized and coordinated with the financial operations of the government. No borrowing should run athwart the borrowings of the federal treasury, and no fundamental industrial values should anywhere be unnecessarily impaired. In the hands of many thousands of small investors in the country, as well as in national banks, in trust companies, in savings banks, in trust companies, in financial agencies of every kind, railway securities the sum total of which runs up to some ten or eleven thousand millions, constitute a vital part of the structure of credit, and the unquestioned solidity of that structure must be maintained.

The secretary of war and I easily agreed that in view of the many complex interests which must be safeguarded and harmonized, as well as because of his exceptional ability in this new field of governmental action, the Honorable William C. McAdoo was the right man to assume direct administrative control of this new executive task. At our request, and in full confidence, he has consented to assume the authority and duties of organizer and director general of the new railway administration. He has assumed those duties and his work is inactive progress.

It is probably too much to expect that even under the unified railway administration which will now be effected in the operation of the railways to make it possible to add to their equipment and extend their operating facilities as much as the present extraordinary demands upon their use will render desirable without resorting to the national treasury for the funds. It is not possible, it will, of course, be necessary to resort to the congress for grants of money for that purpose. The secretary of the treasury will advise with your committee with regard to this very practical aspect of the matter. For the present, I suggest only the guarantees I have indicated and such appropriations as are necessary at the outset of this task. I take the liberty of expressing the hope that the congress may grant those promptly and ungrudgingly. We are dealing with great matters and will, I am sure, deal with them greatly.

BILL WHICH PLACES ALL ROADS UNDER FEDERAL CONTROL

(Associated Press Telegram)

Washington, Jan. 4.—The administration bill for government operation of railroads proposes that the government shall pay compensation at an annual rate as near as possible to the net operating income for the three years ending June 30, 1917.

The bill also would appropriate $500,000,000 to be used as a "revolving fund" with the excess earnings of the roads for the operation of the law.

The bill is entitled: "A bill to provide for operation of transportation systems while under federal control, for the just compensation of their owners and for other purposes."

Section 1 provides that the president is authorized to agree with and guarantee to the roads that during the federal control they shall receive as just compensation an income at an annual rate equivalent as nearly as may be to the road's average net railway operating income for the three years ending June 30, 1917. This, the bill officially calls the standard return. This section provides that the net railway operating income is to be computed from returns to the interstate commerce commission, excluding debts and credits, arriving from the accounts which are called in the monthly interstate commerce returns, "less road rents and miscellaneous rents."

No federal taxes in excess of taxes assessed during the year ending June 30, 1917, are to be charged against the revenue in computing the standard return. Any net railway operating income in excess of the standard return is to be the property of the United States. The amount of the standard return accruing during the three years' period is to be determined by the interstate commerce commission, whose certificate as to the amount is to be taken as final and conclusive for the purpose of the agreement and guarantee. During the federal control adequate depreciation and maintenance of the properties of the roads will be included as a part of the operating expenses or provided through a reserve fund, in accordance with principles and rules which the president will determine.

Section 2 provides that if no such agreement is made with a road, the president may nevertheless pay or cause to be paid to any road while under federal control, not exceeding 90 per cent of the standard return. Under this section the legal rights of the railroad for prosecution of its claim for the balance before the court of claims is provided for and any amount found due above the amount that had been paid will bear interest at 6 per cent a year. Any excess amount paid by the government will be recoverable by the government with 6 per cent interest.

Section 3 provides that any claim for just compensation which is not adjusted under the terms provided in Section 1 will be submitted to a board of three auditors appointed by the interstate commerce commission, whose members and official force will be eligible for that service without any additional compensation. These auditors will give a full hearing to the road and to the government, and will report to the president the amount due the road as just compensation. A sum not exceeding the amount so reported may be agreed upon by the president and the road. Failing this agreement, the federal government or the road may file a petition in the court of claims for final adjustment of the amount of just compensation. In the court of claims proceedings the report of the auditors will be considered prima facie evidence of the facts stated. The just compensation of any federal-controlled road making returns to the interstate commerce commission will be determined in accordance with these provisions.

Section 4 provides that the return of any carrier will be increased by an amount reckoned at a rate percent, to be fixed by the president, upon the cost of any additions and improvements made while under federal control by the carrier from its own capital or surplus, and by an amount equal to the rate accruing to the government upon any advances made to the road for the cost of the additions and improvements.

Section 5 prohibits any carrier, while under federal control from, without the president's prior approval, from declaring or paying any dividends in excess of its regular rate during the three years ending June 30, 1917. This section empowers the president to suspend the dividends, however, that the railroads that have paid no regular dividends or no dividends during that period may, with the president's prior approval, pay dividends at whatever rate the president may determine.

Section 6 appropriates $500,000,000 which, together with any funds available from any excess earnings of the railroads, may be used by the president as a "revolving fund" to pay expenses of the federal control, on any deficit of a railroad below the standard return and to provide terminals, improvements, engines, rolling stock and other necessary equipment. These terminals, improvements and equipment as the president may direct and to be disposed of as congress may hereafter provide. The president may also, according to Section 7, order any road to make any additions and improvements. He may from this revolving fund advance to the road all or any part of the expense of the additions and improvements so ordered and constructed by the roads or by the government. These advances are to be charged against the road and to bear interest at such a rate and be payable on such terms as the president may determine so that the United States may be fully reimbursed for any sums advanced. Any loss claim to accrue to any road by reason of any of these additions or improvements may be determined by an agreement between the president and the road. Failing this agreement the amount of the loss will be ascertained under the terms provided in Section 2. From the revolving fund, the president may expend what ever amount he may deem necessary or desirable for purchase, construction or utilization and operation of boats, barges, tugs and other transportation facilities on the land and coastwise waterways and may in the acquisition, operating and use of the facilities create or employ such agencies and enter into such contracts and agreements as he shall deem to be in the public interest.

To provide funds for maturing obligations or for other legal and proper expenditures, or for reorganizing railroads in receivership carriers, may, during the federal control period, issue such bonds, notes, equipment trust certificates, stock, and other forms of securities, secured or unsecured by mortgage as the president may approve as consistent with the public interest.

The same section authorizes the president to purchase of the United States all or any part of these securities at prices not exceeding par and to sell these securities whenever in his judgment it is desirable at prices not less than their cost. Any such available from the revolving fund which is published in Section 6 may be used for such purposes.

Section 8 provides that the president may exercise any of the powers granted him through whatever agency he may determine and may fix reasonable compensation for service.

Section 9 would authorize the president to extend the federal workmen's compensation law to apply to railroad employees on such terms and conditions as will give due consideration to remedies available under state compensation laws or otherwise.

Section 10 gives the president in addition to powers specifically prescribed any other and further powers necessary.

Section 11 provides that while under federal control the roads are subject to all laws and liabilities as common carriers, and suits may be brought by and against them and judgments rendered as provided by law. Except with the president's written consent, however, no attachment or execution is to be made on any property used by a road in performance of its common carrier duties.

Section 12 stipulates that any person or corporation acting for or employed by a carrier or shipper or other person, who shall fail to observe any of the provisions of the proposed law or shall knowingly interfere with or impede possession, use, operation or control of any railroad or transportation system taken over by the president, or shall violate any order or regulation carrying out the law, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and punishable by a maximum fine of $5,000, or if a person, by imprisonment for not more than two years, or both.

Federal as well as state criminal statutes where applicable, shall apply to all railroad officials, agents and employees. Prosecutions will be in federal district courts.

Section 13, the last, provides for the indefinite continuance of the law. It makes this brief general provision:

"The federal control of transportation systems herein and heretofore provided for shall continue for and during the period of the war and until congress shall thereafter order otherwise."

MUNITIONS DEPOT DESTROYED; 2000 MEN REPORTED KILLED

(Associated Press Telegram)
Stockholm, Jan. 4.—A Haparanda dispatch to the Tidningen says that the munitions depot on the Swedish southwestern front was blown up recently and that all buildings within a radius of two kilometers were destroyed. Two trains loaded with Cossacks on the way to the Don district were wrecked, causing the death of 2,000 men.

SOLDIERS ASSIST IN FIGHTING FIRE

(Associated Press Telegram)
Hoboken, N. J., Jan. 4.—Five men, United States soldiers and civilians, aided by New York fireboats and railroad tugs, brought a stubborn blaze under control after a fight of several hours in the heart of the industrial section paralleling the government-controlled water front here today.

A six-story manufacturing plant containing paper and other mill supplies, owned by the Great-Nequaqua company, was destroyed with an estimated property loss of $2,000,000. Numerous small fires, caused by sparks carried by a 40-mile wind, were checked by the soldiers and civilians. The flames were prevented from spreading to a number of ships loading with war supplies. A munitions factory in the vicinity was not touched by the flames.

WASTE OF GASOLINE.

It would seem as if the high price of gasoline provided a sufficient motive for saving it. But the need of this vital fuel in our war-work is great, and the government now asks the motorist to help on patriotic grounds. He can have the satisfaction in doing it that he is reducing the expense of operating his machine.

When gasoline went up two years ago, the public kept on buying more and more cars. After they had growled and fumed for a time, they went on using about the same amount of "gas" as ever. The production is limited, and there is a question how long existing supplies will prove adequate. The increasing use of motor trucks is going to greatly increase gasoline consumption. If we are to have enough "gas" for war and peace we must save it.

There are people who take pride in doing a certain amount of mileage annually with a pleasure car. They will get out and run off a hundred miles just to feel they are covering the conventional amount of ground. This does not help to win the war.

If some of the people who have become absolutely tied to an automobile would recover the use of their legs it would help. Let them feel that for a walk of a mile or two it is much better to gain health and strength exercising leg-muscles. When a man is indifferent whether he walks, rides, or takes a pleasure jaunt or not, he may well leave his car under cover.

Formerly in winter, pleasure-driving used to stop wherever the roads were snowy or muddy. But all through the northern states people keep right on burning "gas" wherever the roads are hard. Much of this winter use of automobiles in cold weather is mere indolence. The pleasure consumption of gasoline could be reduced a third without effecting the happiness of car-owners if they only thought so. Such a reduction would reduce prices of gasoline and greatly lessen the cost of operating a car.

OLD CLOTHES.

If you have clothing that you are too proud to wear any longer, don't sell it to some old clo' man, who will sell it to the poor at a largely advanced price. It is much better to give it direct to some worthy person. There are plenty of people under present conditions who could make good use of it.

People who buy good substantial clothes are quite apt to discard them when they are not worn much. The man may be ashamed of his trousers frayed about the edges, and the woman of a skirt not up to style. But the fabric is mostly in good condition and capable of a great deal of wear. It will keep poor people

THE SAILING FLEET.

(Philadelphia Record.)

The tremendous advance of freight rates soon after the war began led to the overhauling and refitting of every schooner and square-rigger under the American flag which could keep water out of her hull. The marine graveyards were searched by the marine resurrector for vessels that had ended their careers, but which could be made seaworthy at an expense about equal to their original cost, and could then pay for themselves in one round trip. They are laid up again, partly because the underwriters are setting listidulous about their risks, but particularly because they are refused clearance for ports in the barred zone. They have not enough speed to get away from submarines.

The French bounty of a d'caudy have put a premium on sailing vessels, and therefore there is a disproportionate number of sailers under the French flag. They also have been ruled out of trade with their own ports because they are an easy prey of the submarines. A few weeks ago it was reported from Washington that our Government had delivered 20 steamers to France, and would deliver more as fast as they could be completed, in return for which France turned over to us 100,000 tons of sailing vessels.

If there is sugar in Java, if there is wheat in Australia and Argentina—and there are all these things—the sailing vessels ought to be put to use on the Pacific and the South Atlantic. There are no steamers to spare. All that we can get hold of, whether our own or borrowed from Great Britain, are used to carry troops and their supplies to France. But the great fleet of sailers that has been thrown out of business by the submarines is perfectly competent to bring wheat and sugar and nitrates from countries outside of the barred zone to American ports. It is not possible to get the attention of the Shipping Board long enough to suggest this partial solution of the sea carrying problem. These sailers cannot carry so great cargoes or make so many trips as the better class of cargo steamers. But when we and our Allies are short of wheat and sugar it is high time that somebody took hold of the Shipping Board and forcibly turned its head in the direction of the large fleet of unemployed sailers.

Once converted into a thrift stamp that handcuffed quarter can work only for the government and yourself. Just think of that over.

HOW OUR NAVY HAS GROWN

(Pittsburgh Dispatch.)

The annual report of the secretary of the navy, for war reasons, lacks the detail and scope of other years, but Secretary Daniels gives some general figures showing the extraordinary development of our navy since the declaration of war that will be a source of pride and gratification to the country. Popular attention has been centered largely on the growth of the army, the filling out of the National guard, the making of the National army, the training camps for officers and men. But meanwhile the navy has had a hardly less remarkable increase. From a force of 4,500 officers and 68,000 enlisted men in January it has expanded to 15,000 officers and 254,000 men, including regulars, reserves and national naval volunteers, so that today afloat and ashore there are 300,000 men attached to our sea forces. The monthly expenses in January, $8,000,000 have increased to $20,000,000. Where we had about 300 vessels of all kinds at the first of the year we have many more than a thousand today. In addition, the secretary says, we have a flying boat, an American device that owes nothing to foreign adaptation, which promises to be a world beater.

Not so bad for a start. In about twelve months we have spent nearly $2,000,000,000 in building up our navy, or more than the total appropriations for the new navy since its inception in 1883 to 1911. But reports from the war zone show results. The American destroyers have been doing their share in keeping down the U-boat rans, a share that has been freely commended by the British navy. Besides we have been able to transport our troops to France so safely that German assertions of its impossibility have been made ridiculous. What has been accomplished in a few months is a splendid promise of what our navy will be able to do when it attains its full growth.

OPPOSITION TO RETRENCHMENT.

(Ohio State Journal.)

The request of the one-cent tax law would be a declaration against the policy of retrenchment. But that is the very purpose of the law. The fix that so many cities are in is brought about by a disregard of the one-cent law. If that had been observed, there would be no deficits. The purpose of the law was to protect the people against extravagance and needless expenditure. The official tendency, controlled largely by political superstition, is to expend more money than we have. It seems impossible to extricate ourselves from a needless service or to turn sincere into the pastures of private life. But in a government for the people it should be done. There are many opportunities for doing it, but the beneficiaries are so strong that it has seemed impossible to embrace them. We must turn over a new leaf, in the new year. We must do more for the people.

LYNCHINGS IN 1917.

(Pittsburgh Gazette-Times.)
The Tuskegee Institute has issued its annual summary of lynchings for last year. In 1917 mobs took the lives of 26 persons, 17 fewer than in 1916. Thirty-six were Negroes and two whites. One woman was lynched, as against three in the preceding year. Lynchings occurred in two Northern states, one each in Montana and Wyoming, while Texas last year equalled Georgia's record, each state being disgraced with six mob murderers.

It will be deducted from the figures given above that American savagery has abated somewhat, but more numbers do not tell the whole story. "The incidents to lynchings in the offenses alleged against victims of mobs, as reported by the Tuskegee Division of Records and Research, were less grave on the whole last year than in 1916. The chief offense, attacks on women, was avenged in 12 instances in each year. That is blot enough on our boasted civilization, but democracy is championed by the future record: Two persons were lynched for "not getting out of road and being insolent," two for "disputing white man's word," one for "stealing a coat," one for "accidentally killing a child by running automobile over it," one for "vagrancy," one for "writing insolent letter." In all of the minor cases cited the victims were Negroes. Would it be unfair to group them all under one heading and bluntly acknowledge these eight persons were killed by mobs for nothing but that they were black? Probably race prejudice is accountable for a majority of all the lynchings. It is something to ponder in these times when we are waging war for justice, which recognizes no distinction of race.

Spirit of the Press

Germany's Youthful Forces.
According to an Amsterdam story, the German government is preparing to force all boys of 16 and 17 into the army. It is not pleasant to think of the sacrifices of war being drawn from among those so young, but there are several thousand gray-haired men in this country today who can testify to the high degree of man power that boys of 16 and 17 are capable of exerting in cases of emergency.—Savannah News.

Don't Despair of Russia.
We do not despair of Russia, temporarily exhausted and paralyzed by an obsession. The new Russia is simply free from imperialistic taint, and it will not sign its own death warrant by making itself the helot of Prussian militarism. Already we hear of regenerative forces at work, but the process will be slow, tentative, and fitful. It will be much, and perhaps all that should be expected, if in Russia there should gradually develop, when the mask has been torn from German statecraft, a resolute spirit of resistance which will compel the Central Powers to keep the long Eastern front well manned. If this hope should be realized by the time that our own military strength is developed, the war will quickly take on a very different aspect.—Springfield Republican.

Your Fighting Quarter.
The ordinary bank takes care of the man who has $10 a week which he can save. The savings bank takes care of the man who is able to put $1 aside. But the Thrift stamps which Uncle Sam is putting out get right down to bed-rock. They were invented for the man, woman or child who could save 25 cents at any time within the next year and who felt that he or she would like to do a bit towards winning the war. Every quarter invested in a Thrift stamp helps to buy something for an American soldier or sailor that he needs, if he is to be an efficient and well equipped fighting man in the war against the Kaiser. Count that week lost in which do not make one of your quarters go to war.—Washington Herald.

The Farm Loan Act.
The question why the Western farmers have to pay 10 per cent still for loans, in spite of the Federal loan act, will perhaps be answered authoritatively if Senator Penrose's desire to ventilate the operation of that act prevails. The administration now wants authority from Congress to purchase $100,000,000 of bonds issued by the Farm Loan banks. The government, perhaps, has so much money now that it is desirous to invest $100,000,000 of it in this way. In any case, the farmers should have the means to raise a record crop of foodstuffs in the coming year. If the maladministration of the farm loan act is responsible for this condition of affairs the people ought to know it.—Boston Transcript.

Thrift is derived from the very word thrive. When one thrives he is happy. Start the thrift stamp habit and increase your happiness.

HELP WIN THE WAR

The Ohio War Board says today: Earlier flour, when available should be used as a wheat saver. The methods of cooking barley flour are more nearly like those of meal and wheat. This is due to the fact that barley when mixed with water, does not form the sticky elastic dough which is produced in wheat.

In making barley bread, a combination of wheat flour and barley flour should be used. When the barley flour is used with eggs, as in cakes or muffins, it may be used alone. Loaves may be made by using from one-half to two parts of barley flour in one part white or whole wheat flour.

Muffins, baking powder biscuits and hot breads of various kinds present a better way to observe wheatless days than to try to bake special loaves of raised bread for the purpose.

Loaves as well as spice cakes, and doughnuts made entirely from barley flour have been a success.

The Young Idea.
A pupil being asked to paraphrase the two lines from Keats's "Ode to a Nightingale":
Thou wast not born for death, immortal bard!
No hungry generations tread thee down, responded as follows: "The nightingale is not a game bird; sportsmen do not tread on it for food." Hitherto the most pleasant effort in paraphrase had always been held to be the transformation of Brutus's "O pardon me, thou bleeding piece of earth!" into "Excuse me, you sanguinary clod!"—London Observer.

RHEUMATISM

Physician Believes a Genuine Remedy for the Disease Has Been Found.

Rheuma, the wonderful rheumatism remedy sold by T. J. Evans and all druggists gives quicker and more lasting relief than other remedies costing many times as much.

Rheuma passes the deadly poisonous secretions into the bowels and kidneys, from which they are quickly thrown off in a natural, healthy way. Read what a reputable physician says about Rheuma: "I have made a most careful investigation of the formula employed in the manufacture of Rheuma, and I heartily recommend it as a remedy for all forms of rheumatism. I find Rheuma far in advance of the methods generally employed in the treatment of rheumatism, and altogether different in composition from the remedies usually prescribed."—Dr. M. C. Lyons.

This should give any sufferer from rheumatism confidence to try Rheuma. 1-4-8-11

RED BLOODED MEN WIN OUT

They Are Always on Top.

It is a fact that red blooded men and women are at the top in every walk of life. Men and women with the driving force of red blood, rich in iron and phosphates do things, they get results.

Red blooded women are the heads of the happiest and most contented homes, they have the will and the desire to be real companions and helpmates.

Leadership and happiness is only for the men and women who are willing to keep their blood and nerves strengthened and nourished with Iron and Phosphates.

A prominent doctor says, "It is a crime that so many men and women lack the rich, red blood and strong steady nerve to achieve their ambitions. It is all the more so because thin, watery blood is unnecessary, as are red blood and strong nerves are within the grasp of everyone. Phosphated Iron makes pure blood by making new blood. It gives strength, brings color to the cheeks, increases the weight and appetite, drives away the blues and those sleepless nights, steadies and renews your nervous energy, makes you feel like a live one once again."

There must be something to it. Everyone who tries it is loud in praise of Phosphated Iron, and you have got to show people these days.

To insure physicians agree, their patients receiving the genuine Phosphated Iron it has been put up in capsules only. Do not allow dealers to give you pills or tablets. Insist on capsules. Evans' Drug store, and leading drug stores everywhere.

Readings by Marie Key and Morsan Davis; also, by stunts by every member of club followed by imitations. A test was engaged in, the prize-winners being Mrs. Glen Garinger, Mrs. T. Driscoll and L. A. H.

The home was prettily arranged with Christmas greens, and luncheon was served.

The guests were: Mrs. Donald Leith, Detroit, Mich.; Miss Marie Bell, Miss Ruth Hirst, who is attending Ohio Wesleyan; Misses Imogene and Louise Hamblin of Denison University, Miss Mildred Woodward, Miss Elizabeth Owens and Miss Esther May Hirst.

Miss Louise Elliott entertained the members of her bridge club and a number of guests on Thursday evening at her home in Edison avenue out of compliment to Mrs. Fred Warner of Milwaukee, Wis., and Mrs. Clifford Thomson of Troy, O.

Our Boys and Girls

What to give the children for supper may seem a trifling matter but it is really of great importance. A child's rest at night depends very largely upon what it has to eat at the evening meal. Two safe rules to follow are: Never give a heavy supper and never give it later than five or five-thirty. This leaves an hour or an hour and a half before the time for the nightly sponge which is so refreshing before bedtime and which, with a well selected supper, induces sound sleep.

A little friend of mine complained that his clothes were too tight. It was not the first time he had said so after eating a good dinner, but this time his mother ran her hand inside his loose blouse and to her amazement, found that the waistband was cutting into the little boy. The garments were not old, and they had been loose to bagginess when made, but he had caught up with them and gone beyond before anyone suspected it. The moral of this is that children must be looked after continually. In this case, new waistbands had to be put on and dozens of new buttonholes made, before the small boy could be comfortable again in his clothes.

Every Day Etiquette

"What wedding expenses are borne by the groom?" asked George, soon to wed.

"It is customary for the groom to pay for the marriage license, the clergyman and the incidental services of the sexton," said his brother.

"He should also pay for carriages for the ushers and the one for himself and best man. He must provide the ring, the bouquets for the bride and bridesmaids."

Still Kept Busy.
The clerks in the county auditor's office are still busy issuing dog licenses. There has been 4790 licenses issued according to the records.

SISTER LOST ON WAY TO NEWARK FOUND IN AKRON

Lost for three weeks, and with the officials of a number of Ohio cities looking for her, Mrs. Georgia Tucker, colored, of Syracuse, N. Y., and sister of Mrs. Frank Ransom of Hoover street, this city, has been located in Akron.

About three weeks ago Mrs. Tucker left Syracuse to visit her sister in Newark. Her husband put her on the train in that city but she failed to arrive in Newark. Mr. and Mrs. Ransom immediately asked the assistance of the police department, and all the intervening cities were asked to assist in the search, which has continued for three weeks. She was traced to the Cleveland station, where she was placed on the right train, but from there every trace was lost.

Last evening word was received at the Licking county infirmary from the infirmary at Akron asking them if a family by the name of Ransom resided in this city. An investigation, disclosed the fact that Mrs. Tucker, who became mentally deranged, had left the train at Akron and wandered about the city. The officials being unable to locate any friends, and she being unable to give a coherent account of her trip was placed in the infirmary for safe keeping. Yesterday her mind cleared a little and she said she wanted to go to the home of her sister, Mrs. Ransom in Newark. Immediately the officials wired the local county infirmary and her identity was established.

Mrs. Ransom left this morning for Akron to bring Mrs. Tucker to Newark.

Milady's Boudoir

Skilled Use of Rouge.
You may see a woman in her own home whom you think the last word in beauty. If she were to be put back of the footlights without a bit of make up she could not stand the test. She would not even be good looking. Color, changing expression and aliveness play such an important part in the impression we create with people. These things camera does not get, except, perhaps, a little of the animation. And so we resort to the pencil and the rouge box to take the place of what the camera does not get.

Take your mouth, for instance. Perhaps your lips are thin. Without a little rouge your negative will show a thin, hard lined mouth. Or, perhaps, your mouth is extremely wide. The camera emphasized this defect as it does the thin lips. A wonderful improvement will be made in your photograph if you will sit down before the mirror in the studio and apply a little lip rouge, either in rouge stick or paste form, to the center of each lip until you have painted them a dark red.

Don't, under any circumstances, extend the application beyond the center of each lip or you will succeed in making the mouth look worse. As you look at yourself in the studio mirror you may think that you look so unnatural the picture will be a failure. Instead you will find your negative a much more satisfactory mouth than you would without the touch of rouge.

The most frequently made mistake of women in their photographs is their desire to have their hair dressed in a different way than that which friends and relatives are familiar with. A successful photograph must, by all means, be typical of you. So, unless you are in the habit of having your hair marcelled and waved regularly, don't do it for your picture. Don't go to the hair dressers' before you have the picture taken. Instead of looking like yourself your own personality will be lost.

You never can tell. Many a man regrets at leisure who didn't marry in haste.

Told by Herself. Her Sincerity Should Convince Others.

Christopher, Ill.—"For four years I suffered from irregularities, weakness, nervousness, and was in a run down condition. Two of our best doctors failed to do me any good. I heard so much about what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others, I tried it and was cured. I am no longer nervous, am regular, and in excellent health. I believe the Compound will cure any female trouble."—Mrs. ALICE HELLEZ, Christopher, Ill.

Nervousness is often a symptom of weakness or some functional derangement, which may be overcome by this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as thousands of women have found by experience.

WHAT NEWARK MEN THINK OF UNCLE SAM'S WAR SAVINGS STAMPS

Dr. L. C. Sparks, pastor First Methodist Episcopal church: "America is only another name for opportunity. America is God's last opportunity. I believe that the world's decisive battle for all the future will soon be fought and won by United America in co-operation with the Allied forces of Europe, and the strongest factor in this struggle is UNITY. All of the Allied peoples must have a part; every man, woman and child must be enlisted. This government-war-savings stamps scheme is the finest thing ever devised for securing the co-operation of our entire population. Thus our toiling millions may have a part. Shop and farm may thus join hands in proclaiming liberty throughout the world. From a financial standpoint the scheme seems to be admirable. For intensifying loyalty and devotion to the cause, nothing could be better."

James R. Fitzgibbon, attorney-at-law: "I am a bull on America" is a remark accredited to the late J. Pierpont Morgan many years ago. No man in the light of past events, in the promise of future accomplishment but must hold the same opinion as thus vigorously expressed by America's greatest financial genius. We are bound to go forward. We have the agricultural and mineral resources and we have the most resourceful people of the world. There can be no stop to America's progress. And now America offers all of her citizens, men, women and children a chance to help her in keeping filled the chests necessary for a vigorous prosecution of the war. When we consider the great debt we owe her, it is not asking much to help in this time of trouble. A loan to the government is a loan to ourselves and an investment in good citizenship. Buy a thrift stamp keep on buying them. To this call every one can respond."

F. Rev. B. M. O'Boylan of St. Francis de Sales church: "I have been asked to write my opinion of the Government's War Savings stamps, and it gives me much pleasure to do so. First, these stamps are a good investment; second, they are within the reach of everyone capable of saving any money; third, they are offered as an opportunity to everyone to aid our common country in her great struggle for victory in this war; fourth, they will encourage thrift as well as love for country. We should not only love our government in its people but also in its very soil. Its glorious mountains and valleys, lakes and rivers, forests and fields, together with everything that belongs to it in nature should knit our souls to it and make us love it as a child loves its mother. For these and many other reasons I gladly recommend the purchase of everything offered by our government to assist it in its present necessities."

Wilson Hawkins, superintendent of Newark schools: I have been planning for several years to initiate in the public schools of Newark some system of savings. Uncle Sam has come to my rescue. Terrible as this war is, if it teaches the lesson of thrift to the American people including boys and girls, it will have contributed one great benefit. Millions of dollars are expended annually by children of school age for not only needless luxuries, but frequently for those things that harm mentally, morally, and physically. If children can be interested in this PATRIOTIC War Savings Stamps Campaign, for this year, it will be the beginning of a permanent system of savings in the schools of the nation, and consequently mean more independent citizens and happier homes. These are the very essentials of a free people. The school children of the nation should be most active workers for Uncle Sam in this war. He is now calling upon the school children of Ohio to give and thus loan to him six million dollars. This means that the school children of Newark, if they do their share, must save and buy Thrift Stamps amounting to at least thirty thousand dollars. Boys and girls of Newark schools, will you measure up to the expectations of your Uncle Samuel? He has given you public schools, freedom of the press, freedom of religious worship, and great opportunities to make the most of yourselves. He fought the Revolutionary War, and the Civil War for you. He has already five hundred thousand young men in Europe, and a million more in camps at home ready to fight again for you. In order that you may live your lives for the next thirty—forty—fifty years in a country ruled over by no King, or Kaiser. He is fighting not only that you may retain the privileges which you now have, but that these privileges may be held secure for your children and grandchildren, for all children born in America for a thousand years to come. Boys and girls of Newark, if Uncle Sam is willing to do all this, are you willing to deny yourselves some cheap gum, a picture show occasionally, or some trifling little pieces of work to do in order that you may make the money to loan him? Of course you are. The school "Savings Stamp Campaign" will start in a few days. Your teacher will explain the plan to you. Begin to save your money now, to buy stamps when the campaign opens. Remember, $20,000.00 in stamps to be purchased by Newark school children this year. This means that every boy and girl must save 15 cents every week this year, or about $7.50 each for the entire year.

ALHAMBRA.

Tonight and tomorrow.

William Russell, cleverest of the motion picture stars whose names have become famous in adventure picture drama, has a new thrill in his latest American-Mutual play, "New York Luck," this being a fight with two ruffians in an elevator shaft, the star hanging by a wire cable and finally plunging several stories to the bottom of the pit, where he administers the knockout punch to his surviving antagonist.

Mr. Russell is depicted in his new production as a confident and ambitious young station agent from Hono-kus, Maine, who goes to New York bent on making a fortune and falls among thieves but whose luck stays with him throughout a thrilling series of adventures and who finally marries the millionaire's daughter whose photograph he has taken to the city with him after finding it on the station platform at home.

GRAND.

The Fighting Trail.

Ten convicts in the Arizona penitentiary, two of them armed with pistols, are rounded up by an Indian confederate, escaped after a desperate battle with guards, capturing an engine attached to a work train within the prison yards and driving it through the heavy gates. This battle is screened with thrilling effect in the first episode of "Vengeance and the Woman," the great melodrama serial by Greater Vitaphone, which will be seen in the Grand theater on Saturday.

The leading parts are taken by Wm. Duncan and Carol Holloway. Vitaphone's famous stars of adventure and the great outdoors. The battle was staged in the yards of a big Colorado penitentiary and real convicts and guards are employed. In the action, before the engine is driven through the heavy-timbered gates, three of the convicts and six guards are killed and certainly the camera never caught a more realistic struggle than that for the possession of the engine, the prisoners piling stones and shovels against the rifles of the guards and winning.

EDITORIAL.

On Trial.

When "On Trial" was first shown on the stage, it presented a distinct novelty in the dramatic world. It's a play that begins to borrow from Tagore and Cock's bon mot, with the finale.

This plot adapts itself perfectly to transcription from stage to screen. In fact, the events leading up to and explaining the situation are unfolded in the picture.

CHIROPRACTIC NERVE SCIENCE

"YOU ARE JUST AS OLD AS YOUR SPINE"

Even back as far as Caesar's time this saying was used. In later years, men substituted for it—"A man is just as old as he feels." Taking the two, and combining the meaning, we have the true expression and CHIROPRACTIC interpretation: "A MAN IS JUST AS OLD AS HIS SPINE ALLOWS HIM TO FEEL."

FRETFUL BABIES NEED A LAXATIVE

When your baby is cross and fretful the chances are it is constipated and that a mild laxative is all that is necessary to make it comfortable and happy.
Inactive bowels are the cause of as much discomfort to children as to older people, and unless the condition is promptly relieved is very apt to develop serious illness.

For children there is nothing that will act more easily than the combination of simple laxative herbs with pepper that is sold in drug stores under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.
It does not gripe and is free from opiate or narcotic drugs, is pleasant to the taste, and positively effective; children like it and take it readily.

If you have never tried this simple, inexpensive remedy, get a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin from your druggist and have it in the house to use the next time any of the children seem out of sorts. A trial bottle can be obtained, free of charge, by writing to
Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 456 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

snows in Jacksonville and vicinity,
the first in 21 years and as a consequence the orange crop has been ruined and Florida fruit will be a rarity.

PLAN TO REGISTER
GERMAN ALIENS
LIVING IN THE CITY

A communication has been received by Mayor Atherton and turned over to Chief of Police Sheridan from the department of justice, Washington. It deals with the registration of German alien enemies and enlists the services of the local police department in seeing that such residents of the city are formally registered.

The communication is from T. W.
Gregory, attorney general, and quotes the proclamation of the president on November 16, 1917, containing the regulations for registration.
The proclamation requires the registration of such alien enemies at such times and places and in such manner as fixed by the attorney general of the United States, and authorizes him to use whatever agencies of the also continues that after the date fixed for such a registration an alien enemy shall not be found within the ritories or possessions, without having his registration card on his person.

The letter further states that the attorney general feels certain the matter of registration can be promptly and efficiently carried out by the police department, and that the plan is to have German alien enemies fill out the registration affidavits at the police station in Newark and receive registration cards. The department furnishing necessary papers and cards. The local department has been asked to forward an estimate of the number of German alien enemies in the community.

Chief of Police Sheridan was called to Columbus this afternoon at 3 o'clock for a conference with United States Marshal Devinney. He was asked to have a list of the alien German enemies—Germans who are not naturalized. The number in the city is estimated at between 12 and 15.

you were a great deal bigger than you are.

Featherstone—What gave you such an idea, Willie?

NEWS IN THE WANT COLUMNS FOR YOU TONIGHT

Less Talk—More Guns Our Army's Need

THE LITERARY DIGEST for January 5th commences the year 1918 (the twenty-eighth year of its existence) overflowing with vital news-articles of immediate interest.
In fact, there are several topics so important that in enumerating them it is difficult to say which should come first.

WHY WE WENT TO WAR WITHOUT GUNS covers from every angle the Congressional investigation of the War Department. It presents the criticisms leveled at the Administration and also the evidence adduced in its favor, with comments from the press of the United States.

UNCLE SAM TAKES OVER THE RAILROADS—Is this the first step toward Government ownership? Will the situation continue after the war? To get an answer to such questions THE DIGEST telegraphed to leading editors throughout the country asking for an expression of opinion upon this latest and most radical war-measure, and this article gives illuminating replies from them.

CENTRAL POWERS ANXIOUS TO QUIT deals with a subject of vital human interest, being a résumé of public opinion upon Germany's latest peace proposal.

THE TRUTH AT THE BOTTOM OF THE SUGAR-BARREL concludes the story in last week's DIGEST of the investigation of Mr. Hoover and the Food Administration.

Other interesting and instructive topics in this number of THE DIGEST (dated January 5th) are:

Short-Lived Victory at Cambrai
Prussian "Democratic" Franchise
To Win the War with American Coal
The Fuel Value of Wood

THE DIGEST—the Busy Man's Bible, the Doubting Man's Dictionary

Those of us who are busy, and which of us is not in these superstitious times, frequently sigh over the arid wilderness of irrelevant information through which we have to struggle in our daily papers in order to obtain those diamonds in a dust-heap—the items of vital news for which we are seeking. THE LITERARY DIGEST saves you all this trouble. It derives its résumé of the news not merely from a single paper, which would be to retain the latter's view-point, but from a weekly gleaning of all the worth-while publications of the world, recording the result without comment or partiality, adhering to no view-point but reporting

all. The facts of the day, focused from all points, are yours in "The Digest."
